

6
Sophomore Endodontic Lab Quiz 4
February 9, 2009

Name _____

Seat No. _____

Rubber Dam isolation must be used on every tooth to be treated endodontically in a clinical setting. State the three reasons for using rubber dam given in the lab manual.

- 86. Soft tissue retraction
- 87. isolation of tooth to maintain a clean ^{aseptic} working area
- 88. Prevent patients from aspirating / swallowing instruments

Questions 89 through 92 are True or False

89. On a maxillary premolar the buccal canal is located just buccal to the buccal cusp.

True or False

90. On a maxillary premolar the lingual canal is located just lingual to the central fossa.

True or False

91. On a single rooted mandibular premolar the canal is located just lingual to the central fossa.

True or False

92. According to lab manual, the exact measurement of the root canal(s) of a posterior tooth is the distance from a cusp tip to the radiographic apex.

True or False

1